55. Burton and Jonathan Resnick

CEO AND PRESIDENT, JACK RESNICK & SONS

One of the august New York City real estate families, the Resnicks may be quieter than some of their compatriots on this list, but they still own 6 million square feet of pristine office property and many thousands of apartments, not counting holdings nationwide. While Jack Resnick & Sons has been building less of late, the company has done much to maintain what it already owns, leading the way in sustainable retrofitting. Breaking new ground as it has in the past, the latest new work is in up-and-coming Hudson Square, where two big office conversions are underway.
